W. P. Walton, Editor and Proprietor.
T. H. Walton, Jr., Business Manager.

THE acts of the Democratic Convention of Kentucky, will be looked for eagerly by the Radical politicians all over the State, and the country. It is predicted by the papers of the Radical party, that there will be discord and dissension in our present Convention. We cannot, at the time of going to press, give our readers much information—but we cannot believe that our party, now in Convention assembled, will, so far forget the good of their party, as to allow themselves to be led into a wrangle, to the great detriment of the cause of Democracy. We know that our political enemies would rejoice to learn that there was a split in the party at Frankfort, but we have an abiding faith in the good sense of the men from the various counties of the State who have been sent as delegates to our Convention, and hence have no fear that they will do ought against the interest of the party who delegated them to net in the selection of candidates for State Officers.

SOUTH CAROLINA, so long under Radical misrule, and the State which has for many years past furnished a good market for Kentucky traders, is now being governed by a Conservative Republican, Chamberlain, and his administration is giving satisfaction to the honest masses, but the reverse to the thieves and scoundrels, who have plundered the old State ever since the close of the war. Her rice and cotton fields will again add millions to the wealth of the Nation, and peace and plenty be consequent upon good government. Governor Chamberlain will make a notch high upon the roll of honor by his conservative policy, and redeem his people from anarchy and ruin.

THE National Medical Association met in Convention at the city of Louisville, on last Tuesday, and it is said that a larger number of delegates never before met in council. From the city papers, we learn that great harmony prevailed, and that never, since the organization of the society, has there been greater enthusiasm amongst the members of the same. Eminent men of the Profession from all parts of the country, gathered in the Convention, and the result is quite favorable to the Medical fraternity. Such meetings are of much benefit to the country at large.

HON. CASPER M. CLAY, the father of Abolitionism in this State, has abandoned the Radical party and thoroughly identified himself with the Democratic party. He was a delegate to the Convention yesterday.—He was an active party man in the "Liberal movement," and like many others of the more intelligent and moderate men of the Republican party, saw the utter ruin of the country if Radical measures should continue to prevail, and quit forever the cause which was leading us to a central despotism.

HON. CURTIS F. BURNETT, of Richmond, Ky., has been appointed Assistant Secretary of the United States Treasury. Major Burnett is regarded as one of the best lawyers in Kentucky. He is said to be a highly educated man, and a fine orator. His appointment is thought to have been suggested by Secretary Bristow, and is regarded as an excellent choice by all who know him.

THE city of Louisville, by her authorities, has, by a suitable ordinance, forbidden the assembling of loafers and idlers upon the corners of her streets. The crowding of street corners greatly disturbs the people generally, and if such a law as the one adopted by the Louisville authorities, was made and enforced here, the public, especially the ladies, would be glad.

DR. JOHN BELL, the great patent medicine man of Louisville, died suddenly last week. He amassed a large fortune, which he left wholly to four children, in trust. He requested in his will that his business of compounding medicine be carried on, by a Mr. Kent, to whom he gives a salary of $6,000 per year.

Mrs. TILTON wrote and sent a letter to Judge Nelson the other day, with the request to have it read in open court. This was refused. Probably "dear father" dictated it like he did in the chamber on that memorable night, when she was lying down with "folded hands and dreamy eyes."

PEOPLE in Florida are now enjoying all the luxuries common to us only in June and July—such as peaches, berries, etc. Who would not like to inhale such weather as this in that land of flowers, fruits, and vegetables? We wouldn't like the Aligators, however, nor the snakes and scorpions.

THE Local Option question has been voted on in many parts of the State at the recent May election, and about the same number of precincts voted against as for it. There was a tie in one precinct in Jefferson county.

WE regret that at the hour we go to press (11 P. M.), our reports from Frankfort are so meagre that they are of little interest. Several of our delegates promised that they would promptly send us the acts and doings of the Convention, but we have nothing further than the Convention organized, with a large delegation, although no nomination had been made up to that time. Next week we will be able to give a full report. Until then, our readers who do not take the city papers, must "hide their time." From the status of affairs up to the organization of the Convention, we may safely predict that the first, second and third ballot will be taken on a nomination for Governor will be made. If the foremost man, then, Williams, is not nominated on the third ballot, McCreary stock will advance rapidly for several subsequent ballots: then the excitement of the occasion may culminate in a "row," when the chances will be in favor of a "new man" if the rules of the organization are such as to admit of this contingency. However, it is hazardous to make any sort of a prediction, as the result of an excited political Convention is one of those things which it were even doubtful whether the Deity foreknows.

Amid the universal excitement over the gubernatorial contest, the minor officers receive but little attention. By reason of the "bartering schemes" which were proposed in the preliminary caucuses, it is equally difficult to name the nominee for any office on the ticket. Three-card Monte is a surety compared to the doubtfulness of this Frankfort Convention.

OUR Republican friends will remember that the State Delegate Convention of Republicans of Kentucky, will be held at Louisville on the 13th inst. for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various State offices. Each county will be entitled to that Convention to vote for each one hundred votes cast for Grant in 1872, and one vote for each fraction of a hundred over fifty. We observe that Conventions are being held in the various counties of the State to select delegates to this Convention.

WE see by the letters of several Washington correspondents to papers in the West and South, that the name of ex-Governor Beriah Magoffin is being favorably mentioned in connection with the Vice Presidency on the Democratic ticket. The people of the West and South know him well, and his name upon the ticket would give strength to the cause of true reform.—As Governor of this State he won a national reputation at a time when almost anarchy prevailed. A letter to the Cincinnati Commercial, from our national Capital, speaks his praise, and is significant.

KEY WEST, Florida, is again visited by the terrible "Yellow Jack," which seemed to have no fear of "Jack Frost." The result of its early appearance was to drive to their Northern homes about 25,000 persons who had "wintered" in the State to escape the frigid climate of Northern latitudes.

VICE PRESIDENT, Henry Wilson is on a tour through the West. Strange it is, a little, that while in Louisville, Frankfort, and Lexington, he was the honored guest of innumerable gentlemen of the Democratic-rebel persuasion. Gen'l John C. Breckenridge entertained him at his residence.

A NEGRO murdered a white policeman named Frazier, in Nashville, last Saturday evening, and a mob took him from the jail, and after firing several shots into him, swung him over the suspension bridge; the rope broke and he tumbled over the rocks into the river, dead.

DOCTOR PAUL F. EYE, of the University of Nashville, and one of the leading surgeons of this country, has been selected to deliver an address upon surgery at the coming Philadelphia Centennial Celebration. Prof. Eye stands at the head of his profession in the South.

THE Jefferson Street Christian Church, of Louisville, has had 120 additions since Elder Geo. W. Sweeney has been conducting the meetings, which began about a month since.—Elder S. has been without help, and is said to be worn out with his long labors.

DEMOCRATIC officers were duly installed the other day in Pennsylvania—the first time in nine years. Surely that "tidal wave" rolls on, and it will yet reach from centre to circumference.

MISS IDA, a daughter of Morace Greeley, was united in marriage last week to Gen. Nicholas Smith, of Kentucky. They left immediately for an extended European tour.

A NELSON county mule is a success as a fox hunter. The Record says that one of them ran a grey fox half-a-mile the other day, caught up with, and stamped it to death.

ABOUT 600 medical gentlemen attended the National Convention at Louisville this week.

A CONSIDERABLE delegation of gentlemen from the various counties east of us, passed through town on Wednesday en route to the Convention.

THE Prince of Wales, who is heir apparent to the throne of England, has been made Grand Master of the United English Masons.

THE wife of Atwood, the forger, has brought a suit for divorce. It is known to our readers that he is in the State prison for 20 years.

DOUGLAS, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, was removed on Wednesday. Ex-Senator Pratt has accepted the position.

WATER COUNTY NEWS.

MONTICELLO, Ky., May 6th, 1875.

The Court was organized this morning at 9 o'clock, Judge Dewey, on the bench, by request of the Judge, Hon. J. S. Van Winkle, charged the Grand Jury in a short but exceedingly able speech. Judging from the appearance of the Grand Jury, visitors of the law may look out for a new home. There was an unusual large crowd in attendance, and more than the usual amount of business done on the first day. There are very few appearances brought to this term. Some criminal cases to be tried, and will probably take up the full time allowed by law to complete the business of the term. Everybody seems to be in a good humor with each other. A very able speech was delivered by J. J. Richardson, after 3 o'clock, last evening, in the Courthouse. Monticello is looking up. The day past off quietly. In addition to the bar of this place, I notice in attendance J. E. Hay, J. A. Hents, J. S. Van Winkle and George Denny.

PLANKI COUNTY NEWS.

SOMERSET, Ky., May 4, 1875.

CARRIGAN, the man killer, lay at large. It appears that the friends of the deceased do not intend to prosecute him, and we therefore, from past experience, suppose he will go free, at least until the sitting of our next Grand Jury. Is it possible that men shall go on with their crimes, and the officers of the law will take no steps toward meeting out to them a just retribution? Our county Judge surely ought to take this case in hand, and see that Carrigan is brought up for trial. The good people of the county are torn out with officers who will not see the law executed. When men get a taste of holding office, it appears that they are ever afterward ready to conciliate matters with nonusers, drunkards, and every one else—looking to the time when they may again seek an official berth. When your humble servant, hereafter casts a vote, it shall never be for any one who can give no evidence that he will execute the law of the land. Maj. Elliott, as town Marshal, exhibited the true type of a civil officer, by fearlessly and impartially, using his utmost to bring offenders to justice. He courted no man's favor, and all this, too, he did without any desire for gain from the proceeds of the office, but simply worked to put down all lawlessness. May others follow his noble example.

IS our town, we have a temporary inhabitant, who is noted for a vivid imagination, and far-fetched metaphors. We cannot say that he is the "father of liars," but he is surely very closely related to that gentleman. Some one suggests that by the aid of "Jawbone," gas, and a good forearm, he might succeed in making a road to a first class spring. It has been said, that he predicts the future will have a great many subscribers on account of its "What-Not." Well, if the future should go under on this account, we would advise the publishers to submit meekly to fate, and go to publishing ten cent novels, gleaned from the prolific imagination of this precious individual. We promise the commendation of the citizens of Somerset, for him—as an author of this class.

WE presume the day of small things is at hand, as we have lately heard a man tell a "fib" to sell a yard of red ribbon that cost a nickel.

WE had some excitement at our election here on last Saturday, most of which, was due to the whisky that was loosed unparalelly by mob, or at of those who ran the race through. We are sorry to hear that the fact that some of our respectable citizens were drawn into the execution of measures that should be left to the monopoly of those who stood down in the dress of fifty society. True Democracy, or Republicanism, if you please, does not warrant the use of such intrigue as was employed by the friends of the candidates for the Magistracy. During the day, many were seen busily engaged using the bottle as a means of procuring votes, stepping their fellow-citizens in that liquid which causes men to do things contrary to themselves, and the opposite to all that is just and right. Towards the close of the day, my every resort was taken to procure votes—it was the best means of securing the election, and we saw near a tie. Runners were sent to the country for votes; every available man was brought forward, and even the chancy youths and other wildered negroes were brought up and voted. We would say by what law the negroes, who are here only temporarily, are allowed a vote, while contractors are refused that privilege. Late in the day, some amusing Gabriel, sounded the trumpet that resurrected an old negro eighty-four years of age, for whose burial clothes the county paid at least four years ago. He not having sufficient strength to walk, after being "limbered up," he was borne upon the wings of half-a-dozen dark colored sprites, to the voting place, where he exercised one of the privileges of free humanity. The final result of the election was the success of Wm. Waddle, Dem., and Joe Purdy, who is a Fremont-Lincoln-Union-Trust Republican, of the first degree, to the office of Magistrate, and David Epperson, Dem., for Constable. It is painful to show, that some of the partisans came down so low, as to circulate so many lawless slanders, as to cause one Joe Salter, to withdraw from the Magistracy race the day previous to the election, in utter disgust. These were meted by the light-skinned, skin-fint, low-salary men, who were trying to run in their manhood of the more liberal candidates. These are the kind of men that want the Doctors to sell their medicines at 10 percent, and throw in a low-bidder. Who leave temperance meetings when some noble heart proposes to vote more money to put down the liquor traffic. Who spend half an hour in jangling the merchant on a rail of calves, and ask him to "bing in a spoon of the best beef."

—and who hires the honest, poor man, for fifty-cents per day, and pay him in corn at one dollar per bushel, at the end of the week, he having to shell it after supper.—We desire to say, that Joel W. Salter was one of our best Magistrates, and had he continued in the race, he surely would have sat side by side with our other Joe, in our next County Court.

SOME of the fair ones of Somerset, think a Green Patch would enhance the value of their respective domiciles.

DICKY DOWNEY has suffered much lately, with pains in the lower extremities, supposed to be the fruit of wearing rubber tip-boots, while working in the tannery. Rubber goods that fit so closely as to prevent evaporation and ventilation from the system, are, no doubt, injurious to health.

MR. PARSONS, our present Marshal, is down with neuralgia of the jaw, and Johnnie Dwyer with pneumonia.

MISS PINA BROWN, daughter of J. N. Brown, of Point Isabel, died at W. R. Hansford's, Tuesday last week. This notice will meet the eyes of many friends, who will be glad to know that she, during the last hours of her illness, gave abundant evidence that she was resigned to the will of God, and was ready to pass over the cold river of death, to the bright scenes awaiting her beyond the cares of life. She did not die as the infidel will die.

THE J. M. PERKINS has been elected President of our National Bank, to fill the place of Maj. Elliott, dec'd. He is worthy of this confidence.

THE Good Templars are having from two to thirteen addresses at each meeting.

TO FIND a Somerset gambling house, pass down Main Street, to twenty paces below Thompson's corner—halt—right-face—forward, march. Halls, Bill!

WILL H. has said that the painters of Somerset ought to go to the relief of the Kansas sufferers, as they are good at making grain.

WE suppose Gilson Bro's, will soon have engaged a new salesman, as the Christian Church is soon to have a big meeting, conducted by the "big" preacher, and L. H. Surber. To make this meeting a success, we suggest Acts, 21 chap. 38th verse, as a text, and as a battle-song:

Water, water everywhere,
In the hills and in the air,
In the Church and on the street,
At the fire-side—to all you meet,
Baptizing ever as you go,
Say they yes, or say they no.

SOME persons claim that the Grangers were united against one of the candidates for Magistrate. We think this is true, only so far as, that a few false Grangers used improper means to work for a "close" candidate—and

Then a Judge they say
Who spent the day
Fiddling around them,
Who laid a vote,
Making a note
Of Grangers as he found them.

But towards eve
He quick did leave
And thus he did relieve us,
As by his deeds
He showed the seeds
Of discord in deceiving us.

And if our Joe
Had had his row
And had not fow the track, sir,
He would have led
It has been said,
Two hundred at his back, sir.

IS a negro difficulty a few miles North of this place, on the Railroad, Dohney Jones, (col.) was wounded by a pistol shot through the lungs, and a severe cut from a razor across the loins. It appears that Jones had difficulty with two other negroes, and while retreating through the door, he was fired upon by one of them and the other gave him the razor cut. It is said there is no chance for his recovery. If the officers of the law do not take matters into their hands, we might as well give up the ship. All this crime can be stopped by a strict, rigid enforcement of the law.

HAVING been from town some days, causes this letter to be somewhat mixed, but this we suppose, becomes a

WHAT-NOT.

W. A. COLLIER is receiving one of the heaviest and best selected stocks of Dry Goods and Groceries ever brought to Somerset. Give him a call if you want bargains—you will always find him and his polite clerk ready to wait upon you.

ROBT. TIMMONS has just returned from Louisville, bringing with him a full line of Spring and Summer Goods, that can be bought low at Tibbon Bro's.

If you want Ladies, Misses and Children's Hats of the latest and most beautiful styles, at lowest prices, go to Mrs. Jones' Millinery shop, up stairs, in W. A. Collier's store.

MR. T. H. ENSEL, the popular and genial owner of the most complete store in Somerset, in addition to all the latest novelties, has received the largest and best selected stock of spring goods ever brought to that market. He is determined never to be out done or undersold, so Grangers, Railroad men, and every one else, will do well to test for themselves his very low prices. Everything from a job-lot to the most costly article, can be found at the Dutchman's store, so take our advice and carry all your barter and cash to T. H. Ensell. You need not ask for credit, however, for our Dutch friend keeps no books, and has a bad recollection. Therefore, he sells only for cash. The ink is.

We will insert the advertisements of those of our Somerset friends who desire to patronize us, in the column immediately after "What-Not" letter, at 25cts per line, (this type.) Those wishing to advertise, can write directly to us.

Letters from Danvers.—There is no case of Typhoid at Danvers, as the local doctor will not cure. Come to the Drug Store of Boston & Street, and inquire about it. If you suffer from Constipation, Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, or derangement of the bowels, or Liver, try it. Two or three or four will relieve you. Boucher's German Syrup is now sold in every town and city in the United States. We have not less than five hundred letters from Danvers, saying it is the best medicine they ever sold for Constipation, Throat or Lung disease. Sample bottles of both 10 cents each. Regular size 75 cents. Boston & Street.

Don't forget, that next Monday will be County Court day, and horse show day, too.

Col. R. M. Bradley would deliver his long-promised lecture next Monday. He would gratify a number of people.

A little son of A. R. Vandover, living near our town, died of pneumonia on last Saturday night after a short illness.

Misses Carson, Lacey, Warren, Miller, Woods, Harker, and others, left on Wednesday for the State Convention at Frankfort.

Rev. G. L. Barnes left here on last Wednesday morning for Chicago, where he will remain and preach for several weeks as an evangelist.

It is a matter about town, and readily admitted by those who know, that the new year, and being 125 years old, is a fact. Bring them in.

On Monday, a brakeman, in assisting in the unloading of a train yesterday morning at Richmond Junction, fell and was seriously injured.

Some of our readers are of almost equal age to the one in this locality. One person who would consent, is a woman who had been at Campbell & Miller's.

The season is far advanced, and not half of the corn is in the ground. What has been planted is not up, and it is thought that much of it is rotten, and will have to be replanted. The outlook for the farmer is not bright.

There is a nearly seventy-five indictment preferred against evil-doers at the last term of our Circuit Court, instead of six, as reported in our last issue. It is not strange that half of them were for carrying concealed, deadly weapons.

E. B. Hayden has just opened one of the largest, most complete and elegant stock of Boots and Shoes, for men, women and children, which we have seen in this market. It is a real pleasure to examine them, even though you do not buy.

Mr. Dewitt McCune died at Hall's "Camp Station" last week, of fever. He was assistant agent for the railroad company, and is highly spoken of by those with whom he had business. He was formerly a citizen of "Free county," and was about 21 years old.

We learn that Miss Helen Nash and Mr. Burnett will give a performance at the Court House here about the 20th of May. Burnett is said to be the finest delineator of character and the most wonderfully rapid in inflection of face and figure of any living actor.

The Third Quarterly Meeting of the Methodist Church South, at this place, will commence with services morning and night, on tomorrow (Saturday). Services will also be held at the same hours on Sunday. The Rev. S. N. Hall, Presiding Elder, will officiate.

J. B. Tevis, of the Great Emporium, has received this week, a superb line of Hats and Caps, suited for men, boys, and children. The latest styles are all sold, and they are neat, cheap, durable, and pretty. Just drop in the first time you pass his store and see whether or not, Mr. Tevis does not rest this competitor.

The most house of Mr. Wm. Wallace, who lives about two miles from here, was entered by thieves, a night or two since, and several pieces of barn stock stolen therefrom, as being obtained by digging under the sleepers. Mr. Wallace has obtained a search warrant, but was unable to learn the result of the search.

The following officers were elected Saturday last: Crab Orchard—Stephen Harker and Wm. M. Garret, Justices; Tuck Ballard, Constable; Walnut Flats—Wm. L. Lacey and Craig Lacy, Justices; N. T. Douglas, Constable. Turnersville—John R. Kelley and John Cash, Justices; Samuel Campbell, Constable. Highland—J. S. Young and Adam Petre, Justices; William Lacey, Constable. Hustonsville—Edwin Brown and W. B. Jones, Justices; George Campbell, Constable.

THE "WONDERFUL SOCIETY"—Do-Well-Being Society—Loving-Kindness, and a Delightful Audience!

The Amateur Association of Ladies and gentlemen of Richmond, under the tutelage and management of Prof. H. F. Dyer, gave as a delightful musical entertainment at the Court House, on Saturday evening, last. The day, though the first of smiling May, was anything but Spring-like, and the night was dark and unpropitious, notwithstanding which, the Hall was crowded with the critically cultivated music lovers of Lancaster, Danville, Crab Orchard, Richmond and Stanford—an audience amply large to lend all the magnetic stimulus of numbers to the spirit of the performers. The audience were enthusiastic in their appreciation, and fully attested it by frequent applause and hearty cheering. The concert of this society to Stanford, followed by more than fifty of the most cultivated citizens of Richmond, was a compliment which our people fully appreciate. Unfortunately, for our own happiness, as we are unavoidably absent from home, and besides missing the rare treat of attending the Concert, we were also deprived of the infinite pleasure it would have afforded us of noticing in person, the performances—especially of those who particularly distinguished themselves. We can, however, say upon the authority of those more capable of judging than myself, that the entertainment in all its varied features, was a most perfect success. The programme was arranged with taste, and was composed of vocal and instrumental pieces far above the capacity of any but educated musicians, and their rendition looked toward careful training, patient cultivation, and talent of high order. Of the personal beauty, charming voice, and elegant attire of the ladies of the society, all tongues join in lauding praises. Wishing the accomplished professor and his talented associates, every happiness that the study and practice of the beautiful and elevating science of music can afford, as, in the behalf of the music lovers of Stanford and vicinity, give them a loud, long, and persistent cheer.

Angels Brought.

The average Bohemian is sentimental or nothing. The people in this section who read the Journal, were much amused, and some of them not a little disgusted when they read an article in that paper last Wednesday, under the above caption. The "outlaw" is therein misnamed the "Roderick" of Kentucky. Amongst all the chaff, however, there is a little, very little, about. He told the reporter that he was a Bohemian in 1890, as he is now. This is a puzzle. But was he ever home? The popular certificate is in the negative. He was never a Bohemian, or even a Bohemian, but a "hanger-on" of the Federal troops, until 1892, when he went out on his own responsibility, and was truly a "terror" to this entire region, but on account of the many horses and mules which were stolen by his confederates in crime. No "Kuklux" ever pursued him, as stated, but bands of honest men also had lost horses, or whose neighbors had, often sent in pursuit of, and occasionally got them, finding them in several cases, tied up and fed in the woods near his house. He gave them up, but always managed to prove that he had "thought them." It is so, why did he keep them in the woods? The hands he worked on his farm, were usually of the same stripe as himself, and one of them is now in our jail, charged with burglary, and has a prospect of going to the gallows. The Hatchville—Hatchville spoken of by him, are known to have been his companions for a long time, and are now several indictments of our Court for stealing. As numerous horses have been tracked to his house and "corral." Still, this man says he is innocent, and "never stole anything in his life." Circumstantial evidence is often better than positive proof. The Jewelry Store robbery is clearly traced to him. The story about the "man in the box," is too absurd to think of. Nothing of the kind occurred. Whether was a confederate of his, undoubtedly. How did he know that Wheeler was in Nicholas county? And why did he go there and ship eggs, a box by Express to his brother in Missouri—containing a gold watch taken from the Jewelry? This box was stopped by the hands of the Express Company, and the watch recovered, which led to his arrest. Bridgewater and Wheeler were all ways regarded as accomplices in crime. Why did Wheeler offer to give Bridgewater four or five matches to help him (H.) buy a compromise with the Jewelry? How did "treat him meanly anyhow" as stated in his conversation? Possibly, because he did not divide the spoils properly. The romance about Napier and Mr. H., is all a bluff, for Napier was after him a long time. His worth about $1,500, and is covered by mortgages. The idea of making a "persecuted" "hero" of a horse thief and burglar, and throwing around him the romance of a second-rate dime novel, has anything but a wholesome effect upon the minds of the people. Let the many persons all over this and other counties, whose valuable horses have been stolen by him and his partisans in crime, and whose homes have been plundered at night by them, discontinue any and every effort to soften the rigors of these laws, which, according to our information, he has so daringly outraged.

LAND, STOCK, AND CROP ITEMS.

There will be a four day meeting at Dexter Park—running and trotting—commencing July 26. $25,000 will be given in purses.

An orchardist informed us this week that from an inspection of several orchards there still after all, be a partial crop of Fall and Winter apples from buds that were dormant when the freeze came.

Her little ahead, comparatively, as is found in this county, and owing to the fact that a larger average was seen last Fall than the year before, the coming crop will be, other things being favorable, quite equal to that of 1914.

Random Court Day Sales—Major Harker's report: Over two hundred cattle on the market, nothing good. All sold at prices ranging from $4 to $10. Not more than 500 mules of all kinds. Prices fully maintained. All sold. Good broke mules offered and generally sold at pretty fair prices. —From The Kentucky.

We were from the Nashville papers that Withers & Shanks' 3-year-old filly, "Laura Guest," was distanced in the mile heats at the races there this week. The race was won by Lyle's horse, "George Graham." This filly is a fine and promising animal, notwithstanding, and may do better next time.

The day, though the first of smiling May, was anything but Spring-like, and the night was dark and unpropitious, notwithstanding which, the Hall was crowded with the critically cultivated music lovers of Lancaster, Danville, Crab Orchard, Richmond and Stanford—an audience amply large to lend all the magnetic stimulus of numbers to the spirit of the performers. The audience were enthusiastic in their appreciation, and fully attested it by frequent applause and hearty cheering. The concert of this society to Stanford, followed by more than fifty of the most cultivated citizens of Richmond, was a compliment which our people fully appreciate. Unfortunately, for our own happiness, as we are unavoidably absent from home, and besides missing the rare treat of attending the Concert, we were also deprived of the infinite pleasure it would have afforded us of noticing in person, the performances—especially of those who particularly distinguished themselves. We can, however, say upon the authority of those more capable of judging than myself, that the entertainment in all its varied features, was a most perfect success. The programme was arranged with taste, and was composed of vocal and instrumental pieces far above the capacity of any but educated musicians, and their rendition looked toward careful training, patient cultivation, and talent of high order. Of the personal beauty, charming voice, and elegant attire of the ladies of the society, all tongues join in lauding praises. Wishing the accomplished professor and his talented associates, every happiness that the study and practice of the beautiful and elevating science of music can afford, as, in the behalf of the music lovers of Stanford and vicinity, give them a loud, long, and persistent cheer.

Angels Brought.

The average Bohemian is sentimental or nothing. The people in this section who read the Journal, were much amused, and some of them not a little disgusted when they read an article in that paper last Wednesday, under the above caption. The "outlaw" is therein misnamed the "Roderick
